Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

A. Claims 1-8 are drawn to dynamic control diffraction grating comprising a voltage dependent phase varying material classified in Class 369, subclass 109.02.

B. Claims 9-14 are drawn to an information read/write apparatus using a three-beam method for separating a beam, classified in Class 369, subclass 44.37.

C. Claims 15-20 are drawn to a tracking servo operation in an read/write apparatus and read & write modes of a recording medium using one-beam method, and controlling cross-talks contained in read information classified in Class 369, subclass 44.27 and 47.17.

D. Claims 21-26 are drawn to an information read apparatus for separating a beam of light emitted from a light classified in Class 369, subclass 47.16.

Inventions A and B are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the apparatus does not require a dynamic control diffraction grating. The subcombination has separate utility such as with a single beam recording or reproducing.

Inventions A and C are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention C has separate utility such as tracking servo operation and performing read and write modes of recording medium. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions A and D are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the apparatus does not require a dynamic control diffraction grating. The subcombination has separate utility such as with a single beam recording or reproducing.

Inventions B and C are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention C has separate utility such as tracking servo operation and performing read and write modes of recording medium, which does not require three-beam method at all. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions B and D are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the apparatus does not require a both read/and write capability and ability to control cross talk. The subcombination has separate utility such as with a read apparatus, which can control cross-talk contained in a read information.

Inventions C and D are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention D has separate utility such as controlling cross-talk contained in the read information read from the main track using information used from said adjacent tracks. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

2. A telephone call was made to Mr. Robert J. Goodell on August 18 and 19, 2003; to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

NOTE: Mr. Goodell office requested that a formal restriction be sent out for examination of the client.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 C.F.R. § 1.17(h).

4. A shortened statutory period for response to this action is set to expire 1 (one) month and 0 (zero) days from the mail date of this letter. Failure to respond within the period for response will result in ABANDONMENT of the application (see 35 U.S.C. 133, M.P.E.P. 710.02, 710.02(b)).
